The Coye Law Firm's 2011 is shaping up to be a great year. Read some of our recent updates below.

Dan Smith and Family Travel to Superbowl XLV

Lifelong Packer fans Dan Smith and his family made the trip to Cowboy Stadium in Texas to attend Super Bowl XLV and cheer on their favorite team as they faced off against the Pittsburgh Steelers. They celebrated an exciting victory alongside other Green Bay supporters, but some members of their group-- Dan's wife and brother-in-law included--weren't too happy with the outcome: they were hoping for a Pittsburgh win. Check out Dan's pictures of his trip to the Super Bowl over at his blog.

Before the Smith family even landed in Texas, they had a battle on their hands, but this time over the NFL's ticket policy for infants. Dan's nephew Triton is only 9 months old, so his parents thought that he wouldn't need his own seat or his own ticket, but the NFL thought otherwise at first. The debate ended up with the NFL revising their ticket policy and the story landed in the New York Times. Read the article over at nytimes.com.

Since he's been back, Dan has been continuing his work on cases involving workers compensation, personal injury litigation, and Social Security disability.

Salim and Nanette Admitted to Practice in U.S. District Court

Following their admittance to the Florida Bar in September, Salim Punjani and Nanette Cruz have been hard at work representing the legal interests and rights of clients at the Coye Law Firm. To help serve people throughout multiple levels of complex cases, Nanette and Salim have been admitted to the United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida. Certain cases, including bankruptcy and federal-level claims such as Social Security disability, go through this court system. The ability to practice in this system is certainly an advantage for clients, so we congratulate Nanette and Salim on their latest accomplishment!

Congratulations Bryan & Jessica!

Legal assistant Bryan Cazenavette married his college sweetheart in their hometown of Pensacola on January 15th. Although Bryan and Jessica grew up in the same town, they had never met until moving 500 miles away to Orlando to attend college at the University of Central Florida. Bryan balances working on his Master's degree and assisting in workers compensation cases at the Coye Law Firm, while his new wife works at an obstetrician/gynecologist clinic in Winter Park before pursuing her master's degree in counseling in a few years. Congratulations to the happy couple!

At-Fault Drivers from Abroad

Did you know that drivers from other countries may be able rent a car in America with only a driver's license and a credit card? Without insurance, a foreign driver may be leaving other drivers at risk. Depending on the victim's insurance coverages, they could have few options in paying for their treatment. Wade discusses the issue further over at his blog.

The Coye Law Firm continues to represent consumers and employees in their claims for personal injury, workers compensation, and Social Security disability benefits.
