

April 2011 Newsletter

With Summer right around the corner, some of the Coye Law Firm's staff members are preparing for major milestones!

Case Manager Ursula Remy is Getting Hitched!

The Coye Law Firm is pleased to publicly announce the upcoming wedding of case manager Ursula Remy and her fiancé Phillip Vaniel. Ursula is a case manager in the firm's personal injury department, where she helps clients recover benefits for their accidents and injuries. The pending newlyweds met two years ago in downtown Orlando when Ursula was celebrating her graduation from the University of Central Florida and Phillip was celebrating his birthday.

Ursula graduated with a degree in Legal Studies and is currently pursuing a Master's degree in Criminal Justice. Phillip is currently working at the Golf Channel in the station's Master Control Department. The couple plans to tie the knot on June 19th, 2011 at the Lake Mary Event Center. Our best wishes go out to the both of them!

Is your home on the verge of foreclosure?

You may be interested in finding ways to avoid this financially-damaging process. If you try to sell your home and the lender agrees to accept the proceeds, even if they do not cover the remaining balance on the mortgage, you are going through what is known as a "short sale." Read about the advantages and drawbacks of a short sale in our recently published article at EzineArticles.com.

Law Clerk Amber Williams to Graduate from Stetson Law

Celebration will be in order soon as Amber Williams prepares for her graduation from Stetson University College of Law, where she will receive her Juris Doctor as well as a Master's degree. Upon graduation, Amber plans to spend the summer studying for the Florida Bar entrance exam, after which she and her new husband will go on their overdue honeymoon and travel around Italy. Amber would like to practice Family Law with an emphasis on the foster care system. Congratulations and good luck on the bar, Amber!

Legal Assistant Prepares for LSAT

Valeria Coll, legal assistant in the Social Security disability department at the Coye Law Firm, is busy preparing for what all law school applicants put their life on hold for in order to take—the LSAT. Valeria will be taking her law school entrance exam soon and is busy studying in order to get the best possible score. She's currently enrolled in a LSAT prep course that helps prepare students for the exam. She will be applying to law schools at Harvard, the University of Texas, UCLA, the University of Florida, and the University of Miami. The Coye Law Firm wishes the best of luck to Valeria!

Wal-Mart vs. 1.5 Million Women

The discrimination lawsuit against retailer giant, Wal-Mart, has finally reached the Supreme Court in order to decide if the case can continue as a class action lawsuit. Up to 1.5 million women are claiming that they were discriminated against and were not provided the same opportunities to climb the managerial ladder as their male counterparts. The Supreme Court, however, is unsure as to whether or not the plaintiffs have enough of a basis to continue as a single case.

The 1.5 million plaintiffs make up over 170 job titles, which has led some to believe that the array of job classifications makes it too difficult to determine if a class action lawsuit is even viable. Wade Coye discusses his thoughts on the matter in his newest blog post.

Salim Discusses Wisconsin Battle

Wisconsin, like many other states, has had to make sacrifices in order to balance their budget. The major debate coming from the state has to do with Governor Scott Walker and the push to diminish the collective bargaining power of public sector employees. Salim Punjani ponders the issues and implications of the Wisconsin battle over at his blog. Read his thoughts and leave a comment to add to the discussion!

Central Florida experienced heavy rain and thunderstorms a few weeks ago. Was your home damaged as a result of Mother Nature? There may not be much you can do about rain, wind, and hail, but you do have options when it comes to getting insurance benefits from your homeowner's insurance company. If your home or property are damaged but insurance is refusing to pay, contact an attorney at the Coye Law Firm for help with your insurance dispute.

The Coye Law Firm continues to represent consumers and employees in their claims for personal injury, workers compensation, and Social Security disability benefits.
